INTRODUCTION

The National Institute of Statistics (INE) presents the publication titled “Vital Statistics of Paraguay 2024,” making data on vital events (such as births, marriages, and deaths) for the year 2024 available to users. These records are provided by the General Directorate of Civil Registration (DGREC), which is part of the Ministry of Justice.

Vital statistics are essential because they provide a tally of the most important events in a population’s life (births, deaths, and marriages). They are primarily used for demographic analysis, as they reveal the structure, composition, and growth trends of the country’s population, and serve as the basis for economic and social planning.

This material is the result of a joint effort between the INE and the DGREC, as data entry is carried out by the General Directorate of Civil Registration (DGREC); subsequently, the database of births, marriages, and deaths is forwarded to the INE for processing, tabulation, and subsequent publication.

The National Institute of Statistics (INE) thanks the Civil Registry offices for their valuable collaboration in facilitating the annual production of this important report.

The Directorate

GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS

The INE collects and provides users with statistical information on vital events—births, marriages, and deaths—based on civil registry records.

The General Directorate of Civil Registration (DGREC) is the agency responsible for entering the data contained in vital event certificates and submitting it to the INE (National Institute of Statistics) in database format for processing, tabulation, and publication.

Vital statistics are essential for public policy planning. They allow us to determine changes in a population by analyzing births and deaths that have occurred and, in turn, serve as a valuable input for population estimates and projections.

Disaggregated data from vital statistics are made available with the following characteristics:

Births: type of record (timely and late), geographic area, sex of the live-born child, month of birth, place of birth, type of filiation; records of acknowledgment and personal declaration are also included.

The information generated from marriage statistics makes it possible to determine the age, sex, marital status prior to marriage, literacy status, and nationality of the spouses.

The following table shows information on registered deaths by age, sex, department of residence of the deceased, and month of occurrence.

A. Key Definitions

To facilitate understanding of the published information, the following definitions should be considered:

- Vital Statistics: a compilation of statistics on vital events occurring during a person's life, as well as on the relevant characteristics of the events themselves and of the person or persons to whom they refer (UN, 2014). It is the body of information that provides a characterization, analysis, evaluation, presentation, and dissemination of vital events.
- Vital events: These are events related to the life and death of individuals, as well as to their family and marital status (UN, 2014).
- Live birth: The complete expulsion or extraction from the mother's body, regardless of the duration of pregnancy, of a product of conception that, following such separation, breathes or shows any other sign of life, such as a heartbeat, pulse in the umbilical cord, or actual movement of voluntary muscles, whether or not the umbilical cord has been cut and whether or not the placenta is attached (UN, 2014).
- Timely registration: The registration of a live birth must be completed no later than six months after the month of birth (criterion adopted as of 2013).
- Late registration: When birth registration occurs more than six months after the month of birth and before the child reaches the age of majority.
- Registration by acknowledgment: This is the legal acceptance—whether voluntary or compulsory—of paternity for a child born out of wedlock (UN, 2014). In this document, the term is used to refer to the act of recording the father's or mother's name on the birth certificate after the birth has been registered (Law No. 1266, 1987, Articles 65 and 66).
- Registration by personal declaration: When a person—whether a child born in or out of wedlock, an orphan, or a child of unknown parents or whose parents' whereabouts are unknown—appears and has not yet been registered with the DGREC, and in the absence of persons authorized to declare their birth as a secondary option, the registration is carried out based on the personal declaration of the person seeking registration, provided that they prove they are of legal age; and the circumstances are deemed plausible by the registrar (Law No. 1266, 1987, Art. 62).
- Mother's place of residence: This is the geographic location (or address) where the mother usually resides or lives. This document refers to areas, departments, and districts within the country.
- Place of birth: This is the physical location where the birth occurred, such as hospitals, clinics, or private residences.
- Marital filiation: This applies when the birth occurred within a marriage.
- Non-marital filiation: This applies when the birth occurred before or outside the parents' legal relationship, for example: a child of cohabiting parents, a child of a single mother, etc.
- Marriage: The act, ceremony, or procedure by which the legal relationship between spouses is established. It is a legal concept that involves registration with public authorities in accordance with the country's laws, which forms the basis of the legal marital obligations between two people (UN, 2014).
- Literate person: Any person aged 15 or older who can read and write is considered literate.
- Illiterate person: Any person aged 15 or older who cannot read or write is considered illiterate.
- Death: Defined as the permanent cessation of all signs of life at any time after live birth—that is, the postnatal cessation of vital functions, with no possibility of resuscitation (UN, 2014).

B. Key Findings from Vital Statistics

BIRTHS

- In 2024, 90,199 births were registered, of which 63,460 were timely, 24,031 were late registrations, 2,084 were cases of recognition, and 624 were personal declarations.

- According to birth records, a decline has been observed since 2017; in 2020, there was a more pronounced decrease in the total number of registrations compared to the 2017–2023 period. For 2024, we observe this same trend, representing a decrease of 9,766 total registrations compared to 2023.

- According to projections(1) for 2024, approximately 99,346 births were estimated, while the Civil Registry reports 58,700 births that occurred in 2024; therefore, birth registration coverage stands at 59.1%. Based on these data, it is estimated that for every 100 births that occur, 59 are registered.

- Of the live births registered in a timely manner, 31.6% occurred in the Central Department, 12.7% in Alto Paraná, 8.2% in Asunción, and 7.7% in Caaguazú. (Table 1.1).

- Of the 63,460 timely registrations of live births in 2024, the distribution by sex was 51.3% male and 48.6% female. We also see that registrations in urban areas accounted for 76.1% and in rural areas for 23.2%. (Table 1.11)

- Regarding the place of birth, 80.8% of births occurred in hospitals, 17.3% in clinics, and 1.4% at home; in the latter case, we note a slight difference of 22 cases compared to the previous year.

On the Comparability and Use of the 2014–2024 Series of Indicators

It is important to note that the new criterion defines “timely registration” as registration completed within six months of the month of birth.

If you need to work with birth records from the 2014–2024 period, we suggest using the new figures presented below:

MARRIAGES

- In 2024, according to records, 17,357 marriages were celebrated.
- There was an increase of 469 marriages in 2024 compared to the records for 2023.
- 46.5% of the women who got married were in the 15- to 29-year-old age group, whereas for men, this figure was 34.8% in the same age group, and the 30-to-44 age group is where the highest number of male spouses is recorded, at 48.0%, compared to 41.6% of women, who tend to marry at a younger age than men. (Table 2.1).
- 28.8% of marriages were registered in the Central Department, followed by Alto Paraná with 14.4%; Asunción accounted for 10.6% of registrations, while Caaguazú accounted for 7.4%. The departments with the lowest percentages were Ñeembucú (0.8%), Presidente Hayes (0.7%), and Alto Paraguay (0.0%); collectively, they accounted for 1.8% of all marriages celebrated in 2024 in the Western Region. (Table 2.1).
- Of the total marriages celebrated, the largest number involved both women and men between the ages of 25 and 29, with a total of 8,136 marriages, and 7,477 people in the 30–34 age group got married. (Table 2.6)
- Based on the month in which marriages took place, the highest number of marriages was recorded in December, at 16.9%, while the month with the fewest marriages was July, at 5.5%. (Table 2.5)
- Considering the prior marital status of the spouses, 94.4% of marriages were between single men and single women. (Table 2.8)
- According to the records, 99.9% of those who got married are literate, and 91.4% of the marriages were between individuals of Paraguayan nationality (Table 2.11).

- Of the 35,873 deaths recorded, 57.3% were men and 42.7% were women.

- According to population projections[1], a total of approximately 39,225 deaths were estimated for 2024. Comparing the 2024 figures with the projections yields a coverage rate of 91.4%, meaning that for every 100 estimated deaths, approximately 91 are recorded.

- Male deaths outnumber female deaths in almost all age groups, except for those aged 85 and older. It is worth noting that 62.3% of deaths occurred among people aged 65 and older (Table 3.1).

- 71.3% of the deceased lived in urban areas, while 28.7% lived in rural areas (Table 3.7).

- The month with the highest number of recorded deaths was July, at 9.6%, while the month with the fewest deaths was December, at 7.1%. (Table 3.2).
